

Note : From the above programs it is clear that synchronization logic will not work with multiple objects.

---

In order to avoid the drawback of static level synchronization, Java offers package-private static synchronization.